PRESS RELEASE

Mediastalker Ltd Joins the Audiovisual Antipiracy Alliance - AAPA, Strengthening Commitment to Combat Audiovisual Piracy

Mediastalker Ltd, a leading player in the media and entertainment industry, is a company deeply rooted in the cybersecurity domain and we understand the critical importance of safeguarding the content created by our partners and clients.

Guided by these core principles, we are proud and thrilled to announce that we are now member in the Audiovisual Antipiracy Alliance (AAPA). This significant milestone underscores Mediastalker's dedication to the fight against audiovisual piracy and its commitment to protecting the intellectual property of content creators and rights holders.

The AAPA is a globally recognized organization comprised of industry leaders, content creators, technology providers, and legal experts united in their mission to combat audiovisual piracy. By joining the AAPA, Mediastalker Ltd reinforces its position as a responsible and ethical player in the media and entertainment landscape.

Our membership in AAPA signifies our dedication to protecting intellectual property and preserving the value of creative works.

Mediastalker Ltd brings to the AAPA its expertise in digital rights security, content distribution, and media protection solutions. Through this partnership, the company aims to contribute to the development of industry best practices, share knowledge, and collaborate with other AAPA members to combat piracy effectively.

The AAPA is pleased to welcome Mediastalker Ltd into its esteemed ranks and looks forward to the company's active participation in advancing the organization's goals. Together, we will work to protect the interests of content creators and the integrity of the audiovisual industry.
